The message "Delivery failed" still came. I don't know why this happened. (source: gazeta.biz.rs) A: Your router may not have any route to your internal network. Check your routing table. Also, your internal IP may be on a different subnet than your external network, so you wouldn't be sending any traffic to the IP that you have written in the Outbound NAT rule. The present invention relates to an output apparatus and to an output system. In particular, the present invention relates to a color output apparatus and a color output system for outputting, as a color image, image data which has been obtained by scanning a color original document. In the present specification, color originals refers to both positive and negative types of color originals. A color copying machine, a color printer, and the like are, for example, color image output apparatuses. In the following description, only a color copying machine will be described. A problem will be described with respect to a color copying machine. However, the problem stated below can be referred to similarly with respect to a color printer or the like.
