These apps will help you find what you're after, whether it be a bar of chocolate or a cat. You'll want to use the Scanner Pro app to take a picture of some barcodes, codes, or text. After taking the picture, it's time to scan it into the app. For this, you'll need a barcode reader, scanner, or a QR code. After you have the barcode open, use the Scale tool to compare the physical dimensions of the barcode to the barcode you just read. This will tell you whether the barcode is larger or smaller than average. Once you've determined how to read the barcode, you'll notice that several items will show up in the Info panel. This is where you can read more about the barcode itself. You can even type it into the search box to find the price, and more. After you've determined what the barcode is worth, you can use the currency calculator to find out what the cost would be in that currency. You can even copy the information from the Info panel into the Google Play or App Store to find out what the item costs in the real world. This is a fun and rather unique app. Some of the best apps for Android are available for free right now. 9 Seconds may not be the best name for this app, but it has gotten pretty popular for a game like it. This game of chance is pretty simple, and it works by giving you 9 seconds to get as close as possible to your goal. Your goal may be to hit the bull's eye, or get the most gold coins, or even get to the 3D images. Each time you play this game, you're asked to draw a triangle and get your new score, all at 9 seconds. It's easy enough to pick up and play, but try to get a little further

Q: How to disable a menu item when a search takes place in uitextview in iphone i want to disable a menu item when a search takes place in uitextview in iphone, i've not encountered such a situation yet. i want the user to not be able to click back button or go into previous view controller when a search takes place. A: You can use the delegates to listen for UISearchBarTextDidChangeNotification from UISearchBar. Here is a quick example: - (void)viewDidLoad { [super viewDidLoad]; self.searchBar.delegate = self; self.searchBar.showsCancelButton = NO; } - (BOOL)searchBar:(UISearchBar *)searchBar textDidChange:(NSString *)searchText { if (searchText == nil) { self.searchBar.showsCancelButton = YES; return YES; } else { self.searchBar.showsCancelButton = NO; return NO; } } Remember to set the delegate of the search bar in the viewDidLoad if you're creating it programmatically. This invention pertains to a portable, hand-held, single-user, inexpensive, non-powered, ultraviolet (UV) photography and film processing system that uses a film cassette with a "enclosed" development chamber.
