events and highlights I have a discussion with a client about the way he organizes his calendar and I would like to know which option they would choose between the following two ways to organize a calendar An actual calendar with detailed and specific information about what each day has: A calendar with a table "calendar-events" with a start and end date. Every entry has an icon which looks like a calendar and a text with all the necessary information: a list of things which takes place on that day, such as an event, a convention, a music concert, a presentation, a trip or anything which you may want to add to your calendar.
