Best Software for Weddings Best Software for Weddings Ten years ago, if you said that you were planning a wedding, the chances are that you were just doing your taxes. Nowadays, you can't even imagine getting married without having it be celebrated like a big holiday. When you're making plans for a wedding, you can't just make sure that you've got everything you need (invitations, a cake, a florist, a photographer, and so on) - you need to plan everything else as well. Here are some tools that can help make the planning process go more smoothly: Best Wedding Planning Software 1) Paper and pencil This is probably the best option for planning a wedding. You can write down the date and time of the wedding, figure out who you'll need as witnesses or ring bearers, write down who's going to do what, and keep a running list of the things you still need to do. If you find that you need to write down more information than you could comfortably fit on a single sheet of paper, you can print out several copies. 2) An Excel Spreadsheet Of course, if you happen to be a computer geek, you can also plan a wedding with an Excel spreadsheet. You can get software that will help you create a wedding budget (see below), use it to keep track of how many quests are going to be where, and create a guest list. You can also use an Excel spreadsheet to keep track of vendors and other important details. If you know what you're doing, a spreadsheet can be an extremely effective tool. 3) A Wedding Budget You need to know how much it's going to cost before you start planning a wedding, but once you've figured out how much it's going to cost, it's easier to see where you can cut back. There are programs that help you create a wedding budget. For example, as soon as you sign up, you can create an account at Vendorswap.com, which lets you use the service to look up the prices of all the things you need, like flowers, catering, photography, and so on. 4) An Invitation Planner If you want to get your invitation list really organized, check out an invitation planner. There are all kinds of features you can find in an invitation planner: for example, you can print out "proof
