Story The PCs are asked by a friend, Captain Erfaran Honamatros, to find out what has casued the death of one of her fellow captains. After weeks of storms and bad weather, ships from Mohkba haven't been arriving, but a body has floated in. Captain Honamatros is so concerned that she offers her ship, her crew and even to pay for the journey if the PCs come along, as well as everything they find unless it is a keepsake. The captains that sail the Serpent Lake are experienced women and men and the loss of a ship and its complement is a rare event outside of war. What starts out as a journey to discover what sank a ship quickly becomes more involved. Former companion creatures of a giant appear, telling of a floating island causing chaos, and when the PCs find this island, they discover it holds new occupants who have no wish to leave and a weather machine that has been damaged and is malfunctioning! The task is now to decommission the machine and make the sailing route safe once again. But where do you start when a violent storm is raging around the island and the giant's former home is now upside down? Also included in "When the Ship Goes Down": Choice of crowd control rules to deal with a riot A minor artifact weather machine and its extreme weather table 1 new Monster: the Elektrohydra New Monster variation: the Lightning Mephit (3.5E), Snow Roc and Incorporeal Giant 4 new Magical Items, inclusding a Weather Machine in need of repair! 3 new Traps! "Monument Valley is fun" – IGN (Full Review) "Monument Valley is a stunningly simple puzzle game where every puzzle is a work of art." – Edge Magazine (Full Review) "Monument Valley is a puzzle game that is easy to learn, fun to play and very relaxing." – Steam Reviewer What we love about this game: - Easy to play, yet very fun - Great visuals and great audio - A relaxing game What we would like to improve: - Some short loading times If you want a game that lets you enjoy some beautiful puzzles, perfect for relaxing and soothing the brain, then we highly recommend you give Monument Valley a go! Explore and interact with the surroundings you're in. Walk around, touch the environment, and find all kinds of objects. Consider what you see carefully, choose what to touch, and then touch that object. Simple as that! The game is made for minimal interactions with your surroundings and therefore very easy to play. The puzzles that you will encounter in Monument Valley are created to appeal to your sense of aesthetics. They are meant to be relaxing and freeing to play. The game will guide you through by giving hints if you need them, but shouldn't get in the way of your experience. These mini-games are all interactive, including the puzzles that you will solve that do not involve the actual puzzle. It's rare to find this kind of art puzzle/game in video games. Come and join us on our endless travels. And if you try the game, please share your thoughts and review us! You can
