Boleto Fast Completo Baixar Crackedo.import os import pkg_resources import six import click from obspy.core.utils.console import PROGRESS_MESSAGE from obspy.io.plotting.plotly import plotly as px """ Default configuration for plotly_plot module Plotly Explorer provides a python wrapper around plotly.js server and web client libraries. When the web server starts with plotly_plot module active in configuration, it will begin rendering interactive plots on the client browser. There are two choices for configuring plotly_plot module: - Using plotly_plot.py file in config folder. - Using configuration flag `--plotly` in configuration file. If you use the former, you must run the server (with required plots) and connect to browser using localhost:8000. Depending on how you built the server, you might have to change the port to 8000. With configuration option `--plotly`, you do not have to run the server, all you need to do is to run the config file and everything happens automatically. You can specify the plotly file path as `plotly_plot.py` or `plotly_plot.py`, in which case, you do not need the `--plotly` configuration option. 6d1f23a050
