ELDEN RING ©2017 to 2018 ELDEN RING, Inc. All rights reserved. Oryza sativa is a major staple crop providing food for more than half of the population of the world. The increase in the population has led to a demand for more nutrients and high yielding crops. These demands have been met with increased use of fertilizers to supplement and enhance the growth and yield of crop plants. The use of nitrogenous fertilizers, in particular, has increased ten-fold in rice since the Green Revolution. Plants are capable of transforming nitrogen from the atmosphere into highly stable and available forms. However, because of the large number of other competing demands on available nitrogen, it is often the case that nutrients are not applied at the levels which would be optimum to provide the highest crop yield. Hence, in order to maximize crop yields it is desirable to increase the rate of nitrogen use efficiency to the maximum degree practicable. Nitrogen is a macro-nutrient required by all plants for growth, development and reproduction. It is a simple molecule, with a low molecular mass and low weight, containing two atoms of the element nitrogen. Yet, in nature, nitrogen is found as the macronutrient of four important biological forms, including: (a) ammonium ions (NH₄⁺); (b) organic nitrogen (N-alkyl or -aryl amino acids, peptides or amides, α-amino nitrogens on secondary, tertiary or quaternary carbon, imides, amides, imines, nitriles, dinitriles and isonitriles); (c) reduced nitrogen (H₄-N-C-O, or N-N); and (d) oxidized nitrogen (H₃O-N-N-O or N=O). Most of the nitrogen is locked up in organic compounds and rarely make it to the plant leaves until the plant itself is sick. As a result, leaf retention and grain production are limited. The lack of available nitrogen in

Is VagCasting Hilarious or Creepy? - cimmanom Just curious about the polarizing effect we have on people regarding the topic of "VagCasting". Is it really funny to watch people get humiliated, or is it slightly creepy? ===== mindcrime From just watching a few streams on youtube, it seems like it's mostly "farting-humor" type stuff, with some "clothing-rags-and-laundry" stuff mixed in (but, at least for the most part, nothing that really reveals any intimate details of anybody's life). I don't have any strong feelings on it other than that it seems mildly disturbing to me, with the "boob-job" style stuff just going into overdrive during porn-oriented events. But I can't really say anything more than that. I'm curious what people think about it. ~~~ cimmanom Ok, I think it's kind of cool and novel, and maybe somewhat satisfying, but certainly eye-opening. It could also be a peep-show. Maybe the fact that it allows voyeurs to share intimate details of lives with complete strangers could in fact be the source of the creepy effect. I think that if people looked at the whole stream that way, it would also change their opinion of other voyeur-y things like public restroom videos and street videos. I don't know, I guess it's cool but also a little bit icky. ~~~ mindcrime I would imagine that there is a good deal of voyeurism in movies, TV, magazines, etc. but the vast majority of it probably isn't quite as "perverse" as this sort of stuff. ----- Mindphreaker For me it's been interesting to watch the pros and cons both of the model and the participants. Probably the most interesting is a model who watches the stream and asks for more of what she wants... ~~~ c
