May 31, 2016 - Minor update 4.2.0 of our "Diamond" crystal and molecular structure visualization software has just become available. This version is intended for use in laboratories where large reagents are available but high resolution microscopes are not available. We are grateful to all our friends and supporters who helped create this program. In particular, we would like to mention the following names: Kate (Kate_Ch), who did the design of the program and who helps us with visualization; Nancy_K, who did the design of the program and helps us in the field of programming;
