the printer technology we use, including the use of digital technology, brings a lot of benefits: faster throughput at a lower cost per unit; easier maintenance due to the fact that fewer consumables are used; lower printing costs due to a high level of dynamic management; reduced downtime for the printer because of maintenance being easier; and more flexibility for printing, since the printer can be used for variable formats. the printing system is easily configurable and the technology we use is easily updated. this allows optimum utilisation of the technology, and also reduces maintenance costs and increases quality of service. the willett 460mi is able to print at high speeds and, thanks to the automatic document feeder, high volumes of output can be achieved. the printhead is replaced automatically at the end of the print operation, which extends the life of the printhead. ease of servicing and particularly clean prints: the printheads are cleaned from ink and paper by running the printer in self-cleaning mode. this avoids time-consuming cleaning of the printheads and consumes significantly less consumables. the printhead is automatically changed to print the correct colour ink. this reduces the wear and tear on the printhead. the yellow and blue printheads consume an average of 1,100 ml and 1,200 ml of toner a year, which represents 1.25% and 1.4% of the annual print volume respectively. this corresponds to a printhead change every 5,000 pages and 5,500 pages. the printer is equipped with a printhead maintenance system that can be accessed without any tools. no additional software or instructions are needed to change the color of the printheads, or to remove or replace the printhead. 5ec8ef588b
