first of all, the grundig radio model is vital for finding the grundig radio codes from serial number. second, the grundig radio serial number is located on the side of the grundig radio, and the grundig radio serial number is usually located on the back of the grundig radio. third, grundig radios are usually composed of letters and numbers, and these are usually engraved on the grundig radio. grundig radios codes are usually found in the grundig radio's folder. failing to send or otherwise include the correct chassis number or registration with your grundig radio code request. this is one of the most common reasons for the code not working. often the radio code you require is held on a sticker attached to the outside of the vehicle. if the chassis number or registration has been removed or covered up, the radio code sticker will most likely be missing. a blank radio code if provided by the dealer will most likely be on a sticker attached to the inside of the windscreen or dashboard. if this is not present, the dealer will most likely have just the radio chassis number and not the registration which is required. failing to send the radio chassis number, or chassis number plus registration with the grundig radio code request. this is one of the most common reasons for the code not working. the radio chassis number is often held on a sticker attached to the inside of the vehicle, and if this is not present, the dealer will most likely just have the radio chassis number. now we need to look up the radio code. if you have the original grundig radio code for the car radio you are fitting, you need to enter the code into the grundig serial number search. the search will then check the serial number you have just input, and if it is the correct serial number it will return the radio code. if you do not have the original code, you will need to buy it.

Grundig Radio Codes From Serial Number

it had originally taken me 3 days to get this page up and running. so much so that i was happily shouting "yippee, yippee, yippee" in the wee small hours of the morning..there wasn't much to shout about, nothing came up.it just didn't work. no solutions, no nothing. well suddenly in the early hours of the morning this message just popped up "it's not that long a msg" and all hell broke loose. why don't you chaps make some more suggestions? i've spoken to every vintage car radio vendor i know - even the russians - and no-one had any idea how to generate the radio code using a computer program. in addition, most of them told me that they don't give out the code numbers for each radio anymore and that in many cases the car manufacturers have changed the serial numbers on the radios. however, there has been no problem with my grundig radios in any of my regular cars apart from the 651s my project to get around these problems may take a few years, but i'm sure i'll be able to! :d just in case you haven't managed to do so yet, you can get the grundig 8-digit radio code by following these instructions. simply enter the grundig radio code found on the label of your grundig radio, and you will be able to see your grundig radio code. you can also print the grundig code, or save it as a text file. you will find the grundig radio code number on the label on the grundig radio, or on any printed documentation or user's manuals that came with the grundig radio. you will also find this number displayed on your grundig radio's display. for example, if you have grundig radio code 2338, you would enter it as follows: 5ec8ef588b
